“Magic (A Dance)”

(by the author of “Québécois”, “Americas” & “Troubadour” albums)
 (“What About Me?”, “Internet Highway” & “Guantanamo Bay” singles)

“These words may calm -
And I hope they do -
Stretch your mind;
Make you feel good too:
And if by chance
They speak for you
It’s proof to me
The words are true.”

“Magic (A Dance)” is an original pop song of words and music by J.D.SAGE, Troubadour (aka: Jade Sage). This song is a true performance, recorded “Hot” in Montreal, Québec, Canada; features soft vocals in English: Guitar and Bells by J.D.Sage; Keyboards by Sal Mascia. Recorded by Juno Award winner Morris Apelbaum. This romantic love song gives an original melodious poetic insight into the benefit of a little magic for love in life. Have a nice dance with “Magic (A Dance)”. Cheers.

“Magic (A Dance)” (4:10) & “What About Me?” (3:11) are available to Producers in Canada, Australia, France and USA at CBC, SRC & ABC libraries. Producers requiring more information or radio interviews may contact J.D.SAGE.

“Magic (A Dance)”

A soothing romantic melodic love song and a dance with vocals, acoustic guitar, piano and bells. J.D.Sage is an international Troubadour who composes and performs his own original words and melodic music. He records in Australia, Canada and Cuba. He sings in mostly English and sometimes French and Spanish. His lyrics are often political and romantic.

“What About Me?” (3:11) A peppy social comment song about people who live in safe little bubbles of consumerism and are ignorant of the price paid by exploited people all over the world.

“Internet Highway Cruising Song” (4:06) is another single with social comment. The world of texts and little screens.
