

J.D.SAGE

Troubadour

PRESENTS

“WHAT ABOUT ME?”

(by the author of “Québécois”, “Americas” & “Troubadour” albums)

“These words may calm -
And I hope they do -
Stretch your mind;
Make you feel good too:
And if by chance
They speak for you
It’s proof to me
The words are true.”

J.D.Sage

“What About Me?” (aka “SUV”) is an original pop song of words and music by J.D.SAGE (Troubadour). This song is a true performance, recorded “Hot” in Montreal, Québec, Canada; features soft vocals in English, black Telecaster electric guitar and bells (campanology) by J.D.Sage; Keyboards by Sal Mascia and Fretless Bass by Juno Award winner Solon McDade. This "social comment" song gives insight into the costs for poor people in a world of ignorant and disconnected consumerism. .

“What About Me?” (3:11) is available to Producers in Canada, Australia and USA at CBC, SRC & ABC libraries. Producers requiring more information or radio interviews may contact J.D.SAGE.

jdsage@jdsage.com

SOCAN
music. people. connected.
musique. monde. connectés.

Please follow these links to learn more about J.D.SAGE and hear his music and lyrics.

<http://www.cdbaby.ca>, <http://www.itunes.com>, <http://www.amazon.com> www.jdsage.com, Video Promotion and also “Internet Highway Cruising Song” Video

www.JDSAGE.com

“What About Me?”

Cover Art by Rene Lalonde.

Original, peppy “English Up-Beat” (with Telecaster guitar, bass, bells and keyboards) with social comment lyrics about people who live in safe little bubbles of consumerism and are ignorant of the price paid by exploited people all over the world. By J.D.Sage “What about Me?” sings of the wages and sins of consumption and reflects the effects of current economic times.

“Internet Highway Cruising Song” (4:06) is another single with social comment. The world of texts and little screens. These songs and others are presented by a Troubadour who has travelled throughout the Americas.